Summary

Hi! I'm Emilia, a web development enthusiast and a graduate in psychology This gave me knowledge and experience thanks to which I enjoy working in groups and with groups, that's why I like to think that I have very good communication skills which I consider key to solve problems, and or find other ways. I was recently selected for the "Grow with Google for Women in STEM" Program (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) to continue my professional preparation in IT.
